Wessex Making Every Contact Count Trainer Best Practice Agreement

Health Education England – Wessex School of Public Health Making Every Contact Count Train-the-Trainer trains and provides on-going support to Making Every Contact Count, Healthy Conversation Skills trainers.

This allows organisations in Wessex to have in-house trainers with the benefit of Public Health insight and experience, developed in a cost-effective way to ensure sustainability of the implementation of Making Every Contact Count.

In order to ensure affiliation as a Wessex Making Every Contact Count trainer individual members are required to obtain organisational support to deliver Making Every Contact Count training and to contribute to the implementation of Making Every Contact Count in their organisations.

Making Every Contact Count Trainer Best Practice Agreement

I understand that trainers are expected to:

1. Keep their skills up to date by delivering Making Every Contact Count, Healthy Conversation Skills training.
2. Keep up to date with Making Every Contact Count training practices through reflection, supervision and/or peer supervision of training delivered using the tools in the Wessex Healthy Conversation Skills Training Manual.
3. Champion and promote Making Every Contact Count in your employing organisation and beyond.
4. Contribute to the Wessex Making Every Contact Count Network, this may be by supporting the development of other trainers, offering supervision and/or peer supervision and possibly supporting individuals outside of your organisation where appropriate.

By attending Wessex Making Every Contact Count Healthy Conversation Skills training and being on the Wessex Making Every Contact Count trainer register you undertake to adhere to this Best Practice Agreement.
