Developing people for health and healthcare

www.hee.nhs.uk

Our annual conference on March 25th 2020 will focus on collaborative action to improve population health and reduce health inequalities. As usual we will have invited speakers, workshops, and oral and poster presentations around the three main themes and other local public health action.

NHS Action on Prevention: What innovations in primary, secondary and integrated care are improving health? How is the NHS delivering on its commitments for action on prevention? What collaborations are being built between NHS staff and public health practitioners and researchers?

Working Together to Prevent Harm to Vulnerable People: How is a public health approach to policing, and health and social care, being used to prevent harm and reduce crime and disorder? How are partnerships with the police and other 'blue light' services acting on drugs and alcohol misuse, mental health and domestic violence?

Tackling Social, Economic and Commercial Determinants of Health: What are we doing to redress inequalities in income, education, and employment that impact on health and disability? What more can we do collaboratively across public and private sectors to act on the social, structural and gender inequalities that impact on quality of life, mental and physical health?

Local Public Health Action in Wessex: An opportunity to showcase other local public health activity that is making a difference and having an impact on health.

Sustainability

Sustainability is a core element of Public Health and should be embedded in all our work. We have tried to reduce the impact of this conference on the environment by the following:

- No plastic cups or plastic water bottles
- No red meat
- Limited printed materials, with all resources available electronically
- Venue which can be easily accessed via public transport
- Minimal use of individually packaged food and drink items
- Reusable crockery, glassware, and cutlery
- Electronic registration and feedback forms
- Re-useable name badges – please make sure you hand yours in when you leave

We welcome your feedback and suggestions on how to mitigate the impact of the Wessex Public Health Conference now and in the future.

“The health and wellbeing of the public, now and in the future, depends on us living within acceptable limits and developing all sustainable assets – environmentally, economically and socially.”
